

Tell Keisan in Context

Phoenicia, Israel, and the Mediterranean in the Early Iron Age

December 10th and 11th, 2021

Online (Zoom-Link)

Friday, December 10th, 2021

- 3 p.m. Words of Welcome
Bernd U. Schipper (Humboldt University of Berlin)
Bettina Schwarz (Stiftung Humboldt-Universität)
- 3:10 p.m. The Excavation on Tell Keisan – First Results and Perspectives
David Schloen (The Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago)
- 4 p.m. Tell Keisan and the Emergence of Early Phoenicia
Gunnar Lehmann (Ben Gurion-University, Beersheba)
- 4:50-5 p.m. Break
- 5 p.m. *The Southern Levantine Roots of the Phoenician Commercial
Phenomenon*
Ayelet Gilboa (University of Haifa)
- 5.50 p.m. Egypt and the Southern Levant during the 21st and 22nd Dynasty
Bernd U. Schipper (Humboldt-University of Berlin)
- (6.40 p.m. end of first day)

Saturday, December 11th, 2021

- 3 p.m. Greek and Phoenician Expansion and Interaction in the Mediterranean during the Early Iron Age
Alexander Fantalkin (University of Tel Aviv)
- 3.50 p.m. *Between Horvat Tevet and Horvat Rosh-Zayit:
Some Insights on Israelite-Phoenician Exchange*
Omer Sergi (University of Tel Aviv)
- 4.40-4.50 p.m. Break
- 4.50 p.m. The significance of Sidon and Tyre during the Iron Age on a regional and supra-regional level, or: Why I am so Tyre-d
Aaron Schmitt (University of Heidelberg)
- 5:40 p.m. *The Land of Hamath in the Early Iron Age:
A View from the South*
Assaf Kleiman (University of Leipzig)
- (6.30 p.m. end of workshop)

Time Line: 50 minutes for each lecture
 35-40 minutes presentation and 10 minutes discussion